FOREWORD

For the last twelve years I have, in conjunction with my former pupils and present colleagues, Professors Sheldon H. Blank and Nelson Glueck, conducted at the Hebrew Union College a seminar in which we have together investigated all manner of biblical problems. Quite frequently the need arose of consulting various articles of mine published in different scientific journals, and in particular of referring to citations of biblical passages in these articles. On numerous occasions this latter task proved difficult and consumed much valuable time and effort. One day the suggestion was made that an index of all biblical passages cited in these articles to date be made. The present work is the result.

It was prepared under the auspices of the Bureau of Student Employment of the Hebrew Union College by two undergraduate students, Sylvan D. Schwartzman and Samuel M. Silver. Through their carefully planned, patient and devoted labors the project has been completed successfully and in a manner highly gratifying to me. I am grateful to these young collaborators for the earnest and helpful spirit in which they have performed their rather monotonous task.

While designed primarily for use by myself and my associates in the seminar, it has seemed to us that others also, friends and coworkers in the larger biblical field, to whom various of these articles may be accessible, may find this index somewhat helpful. With this earnest hope it is offered to them in its present form.

INTRODUCTION

This index contains every Old and New Testament reference found in all of Dr. Morgenstern's articles and works to date. It has been compiled according to Biblical references, arranged consecutively by Book, Chapter, Verse and Half Verse. For the Old Testament, the order of books follows that of the traditional Hebrew Bible; for the New Testament, the order of books follows that of the King James' Version.

In order to expedite the use of this index, each of Dr. Morgenstern's works has been assigned a Roman numeral from I through XXXVI. The entire list of articles, together with their Roman numerals, may be found on the Master List which follows.

A sample form of entry (hypothetical):

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the transparency and accountability of the organization. This section also outlines the various methods used to collect and analyze data, ensuring that the information is reliable and up-to-date.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the implementation of these practices across different departments. It provides a detailed overview of the roles and responsibilities of each team, as well as the specific steps required to ensure compliance with the established protocols. This section also addresses the challenges faced during the implementation process and offers practical solutions to overcome them.

3. The third part of the document discusses the ongoing monitoring and evaluation of the implemented measures. It highlights the importance of regular audits and reviews to assess the effectiveness of the measures and identify areas for improvement. This section also outlines the process for reporting and addressing any issues that arise during the monitoring process.

4. The fourth part of the document provides a summary of the key findings and conclusions of the study. It reiterates the importance of maintaining accurate records and the need for continuous improvement. This section also offers recommendations for future research and the implementation of best practices in the field.

5. The final part of the document is a conclusion that summarizes the overall findings and provides a final statement on the importance of the research. It emphasizes the need for continued efforts to improve the transparency and accountability of the organization and the role of the research in achieving these goals.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a textured appearance with numerous small dark spots, possibly foxing or dirt, scattered across its surface. There are also some faint, illegible markings and smudges, particularly towards the top and right edges. The overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.

[Faint, illegible handwritten notes]

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly grainy texture and is covered with numerous small, dark brown spots, characteristic of foxing or dirt. There are also a few larger, faint smudges and discolorations scattered across the surface. The overall appearance is that of an old, well-preserved but slightly worn piece of paper.
